GETTING TO THE VENUE

For those who would like transport arranged by the organisers: minibus transfers have been arranged departing from Edinburgh airport (EDI) on Sunday 7th June, with one scheduled for mid-afternoon, and one in the evening (exact timings TBC, but provisionally planned to depart at 1430 and 1800). Minibus transfers back to EDI will be arranged for mid-afternoon on Friday 12th June (provisionally departing at 1430, travel time estimated at around 90 minutes).

If you are travelling on a different day, you will have to make alternative arrangements. Edinburgh airport is well connected to Edinburgh city centre (easiest links are by tram and bus: Getting to & from | Edinburgh Airport). For those arriving into other airports, there are frequent trains and coach services available from most major cities in the UK.

Driving: The venue is located approximately 1h30 from Edinburgh. Please note in Scotland, you must drive on the left.

Public Transport: The closest major public transport hub is Edinburgh, with the main train station being Edinburgh Waverly, and the main bus station being Edinburgh bus station. Please check the timetables and plan any public transport journey in advance: services can be infrequent on Sundays and there is no simple public transport connection to the venue.

Taxi: The taxi company serving Edinburgh airport is Capital Cars, who also serve the city centre alongside City Cabs. Taxis can be pre-booked via the company websites or by phone call. The average fare to the venue will be approximately £150. The main ride-share apps used in Edinburgh are Uber, Bolt, and FreeNow.
